PREAMBLE

In the context of Memorandum of Understanding –MoU, for the EEA Grants 2014 - 2021 the Beneficiary State sets aside a sum at least equal to 2% of the total EEA FM 2014-2021 funding, so that a fund may be established to enhance bilateral relations between Donor Countries and the Beneficiary State. The exact amount is stipulated in the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU). According to the MoU signed between the Donor Countries and Greece on October 31, 2017, the budget allocated for the Bilateral Relations Fund amounts to €2,334,000 and is 100% financed by the EEA Grants 2014-2021.

The Bilateral Relations Fund is a flexible financing resource used to support initiatives aiming at strengthening relations between the Donor Countries Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Greece as the Beneficiary State, so that they may enhance their cooperation strategy, networking and exchange of knowledge between their entities. The Fund should further strengthen political, professional, social and economic ties and lay foundations between the Donors and Greece.

The initiatives may be implemented either within the Programmes agreed on in the Memorandum of Understanding and are operated by Greek authorities or through initiatives taken outside the Programmes, managed by the NFP. Initiatives associated with the Programmes contracted directly by FMC/FMO, are also managed by the NFP. The NFP maintains the responsibility for the Bilateral Fund implementation monitoring and reporting in its entirety.

The Joint Committee for the Bilateral Funds 2014-2021 (JCBF), established according to the Regulations on the implementation of the EEA and Norwegian Financial Mechanisms 2014-2021, Art. 4.2 and Art. 3.2.1 of the Bilateral Guideline, has the tasks of:

- a) discussing matters of bilateral interests, identifying initiatives and reviewing the overall progress towards reaching the objective of strengthened bilateral relations;
- b) adopting the Work Plan for the fund for bilateral relations to be discussed at the annual meeting; and
- c) identifying and allocating bilateral funds to programmes of bilateral interest.

The present Work plan, according to Annex 3 of the Bilateral Fund Agreement presents the strategy that will be followed for the implementation of the Bilateral Fund. In particular, the work plan provides a brief overview of the proposed activities under the fund and a brief description of the management and control system provisions for the implementation of the fund.

Alongside the legal framework of the Bilateral Fund as set forth in Art.1.2 of the Bilateral Fund Agreement, this Work Plan shall be read in conjunction with the a) the Document for the Composition, role and functioning of JCBF, b) the Management and Control System at the national level.

The present work plan shall be subject to annual review and necessary modifications where appropriate during the years of its implementation. The initial Work plan, its reviews and modifications are discussed and decided by the JCBF, they are presented and reviewed by the annual meetings and are reported in the strategic report.

Workplan for BF Greece 2014-2021

1. Background

Greece has friendly and constructive diplomatic and bilateral relations with the Donor states of Iceland, Liechtenstein, and Norway, while the countries also have longstanding and fruitful cooperation in the context of the EEA since 1994. Additionally, the countries cooperate in several international organizations and institutions (NATO, EEA, OECD, UN, Council of Europe, etc.).

Iceland

On a bilateral basis, Greece's diplomatic relations with the Republic of Iceland are supported through a parallel accreditation of the Icelandic Embassy in Oslo. An Honorary Consulate General of Iceland is also located in Athens and deals, mainly, with consular matters. Similarly, an Honorary Consulate General of Greece exists in Reykjavik. Few Greek citizens live in Iceland. Nevertheless, a Greek-Icelandic Cultural Club in Reykjavik is active and mainly supported by 200 Icelanders whose aim is to strengthen cultural bonds amongst them.

Liechtenstein

Greece's political relations with the Principality of Liechtenstein can be considered fair-minded. The Greek Embassy in Bern has parallel accreditation for Liechtenstein.

There are regular contacts between the two countries primarily with regard to international organizations. One of the main fields of cooperation between the two countries is the successful exchange of support for their respective candidacies in international fora. The relationship between the two countries has been significantly improved due to the EEA Grants' implementation since 1999.

Norway

Greece has longstanding and well-established bilateral relations with the Kingdom of Norway, with which diplomatic relations were initiated in 1918. There is currently a Greek community in Norway (ca 1.300 citizens), representing immigrants from the '60s. Reversely, Greece is one of the preferred tourist destinations for Norwegian travelers. Cooperation between Greek and Norwegian institutions has been achieved through the EEA Grants' partnerships mainly of prior funding periods.

Bilateral cooperation was established long ago in culture and archaeology, mainly through the Norwegian Institute's activities in Athens. Also, Norwegian culture – classical and contemporary – through cooperation with the Greek entities is well-known, as expressed in architecture exhibitions, concerts, photo exhibitions, theatre, etc. In the EEA context, countries' cooperation has been long and constructive, with Greece being a beneficiary of the EEA Grants since their initial launching in 1994. Over these three decades, the EEA Grants have allocated app. 180 million euros to Greece to implement more than 300 projects and have substantially impacted many diverse fields, such as civil society, asylum, migration, environment, culture, and science. At the same time, well-established networking of public authorities, institutions, and other entities and a significant volume of experience and mutual understanding has been acquired during the implementation phase.

Countries' longstanding cooperation in the EEA FM framework in Greece and the broader context of their relationship, in the spirit of mutual respect, interest, and exchange, pave the way for an ambitious and fruitful footprint of the Bilateral Fund 2014-2021.

Major fields of cooperation at present

The Bilateral Fund finances bilateral initiatives which contribute to the objectives of: (a) the reduction of economic and social disparities in the European Economic Area, and (b) the strengthening of bilateral relations between the Donor States and the Beneficiary States, through financial contributions primarily in the priority sectors, set in the Regulation and the MoU:

- (a) Innovation, research, education and competitiveness;
- (b) Social inclusion, youth employment, and poverty reduction;
- (c) Environment, energy, climate change, and low carbon economy;
- (d) Culture, civil society, good governance, fundamental rights and freedoms; and
- (e) Justice and home affairs.

Specific policy areas of common interest for the Donor States and Greece, within the priority sectors, have been endorsed by respective programmes set in the MoU. The bilateral fund complements this endorsement and contributes to the enhanced cooperation and improved mutual knowledge and understanding between the Donor and the Beneficiary States in the following thematic areas:

- Innovation, Business Development, and SMEs
- Roma Inclusion and Empowerment
- Local Development and Poverty Reduction
- Water Management
- Renewable Energy, Energy Efficiency
- Good Governance, Accountable Institutions, Transparency
- Asylum and Migration (Capacity building of national asylum and migration management systems)
- Asylum and Migration (Addressing urgent needs for the reception and screening of new arrivals and for the accommodation of vulnerable groups)
- Civil Society

Programmes that characterise the existing bilateral relations in Greece cover three major fields:

1. Culture and arts, focusing on university exchanges, sound art residencies, community and schools' art projects, and numerous other actions, so as to enhance bilateral collaboration of artists, university music departments, and other entities related to music and art scene, and to boost peripheral European cultural collaboration.

2. Gender equality projects aim to: (a) face the difficulties of young people and women in accessing the labour market in Greece, and (b) create a digital hub devoted to gender perspectives of COVID-19 and its aftermath.

3. Offshore wind energy, focusing on adapting necessary legislative adjustments to promote offshore wind energy in Greece.

Lessons learnt from the previous programming period:

The 2009-2014 BFNL implementation started in 2014 and was completed in April 2018, with several intermediate amendments to the relevant Work Plan. As this was the first implementation, managerial and administrative issues had an impact on delivery and financial completion. The BFNL was in effect a small portfolio in terms of budget, but with a variety of participating bodies and Ministries, from Greece and third countries; this required coordination and guidance, as well as the streamlining of processes connected to the financial management of joint projects or international payments authorised/verified. Furthermore, legal issues and amendments concerning the person(s) authorised to execute state budget banking transactions on behalf of the NFP (co-responsibility with Ministry of Economy's General Directorate for Financial Services), also had an impact in this period.

The NFP regularly cooperated with all project promoters/beneficiaries of the BFNL to inform them about the processes, as these developed in practice and the step-by-step introduction of Management Information Systems (OPS-EOX), or electronic payment systems via the Bank of Greece--all these implemented for the first time in this programming period. Furthermore, the NFP frequently followed up and encouraged the acceleration of the implementation, e.g. the formal correspondence of the Secretary General PI & NSRF (Sep 2017) to all BFNL national recipients, in order to expedite progress and payments before the BFNL deadline of April 2018.

The implementation picked up towards the end of the programming period, as more than 50% of the BFNL budget was executed in the years 2017-2018 (see graph, source: DoRIS). In order to ensure timely implementation of bilateral activities at the national level, the last amendment to the BFNL Work plan was agreed in February 2018, between the Ministry of Economy & Development, the FMO, and the Donors (published in Ministerial Decree as per the MCS and usual practice).

Finally, the assistance of the FMO and the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs was indeed critical throughout this period as well as towards its end regarding the matching and bringing together possible partners for the successful completion of the BFNL, or supporting the implementation and dissemination of the BFNL project results to the general public.

On-going initiatives or upcoming events of importance for bilateral relations to build on

At the present time, five (5) on-going initiatives are at the beginning of their implementation phase:

1. Youth Employment and Gender Equality: Mobilizing human capital for sustainable growth in Greece

The project aspires to deal with the difficulties of young people and women who wish to access Greece's labour market, one of Greek society's most dynamic segments. The project will seek to benefit from and utilise knowledge transfer, experience, and best practices from Norway and other Nordic countries.

2. ProGender: A Digital Hub on Gender, the COVID-19 crisis, and its Aftermath

ProGender aims to promote bilateral activities between Iceland, Greece, and Norway by creating a digital hub devoted to gender perspectives of COVID-19 and its aftermath. The activities that will be carried out within the hub will be online and promote gender perspectives, analyses, and policy responses of the COVID-19 crisis through actions and initiatives that enhance cooperation and exchange between Greek, Icelandic and Norwegian institutions. ProGender will create a hub that will make it possible to transfer knowledge and best practices and perspectives from the North to the South, and it will not rely on a one-way process as the scope of the hub will be to construct and support a framework within which productive and creative interactions benefiting participants from all three countries would take place.

3. Necessary legislative adjustments to promote offshore wind energy in Greece

This initiative will develop a partnership between Greek and Norwegian actors that concretely collaborate to produce a comparative analysis of regulatory frameworks for floating offshore wind. The initiative will attract international offshore wind energy players to invest in Greece and allow the competent Authorities to issue the necessary licenses for offshore wind projects.

4. Transmissions is another project that will foster state visits to enhance the bilateral collaboration of artists and university music departments. Unfortunately, due to the restrictions imposed by the covid19 pandemic, all these activities have been postponed.

5. HEAD to HEAD is a bilateral exhibition project connecting the two unique, dynamic, and ever-expanding artist-run visual art scenes of Athens, Greece, and Reykjavik, Iceland.

Funds can facilitate partnership projects in the following ways:

(a) Building partnerships through early planning of matchmaking activities;

(b) Issuing open calls that shall be:

- widely publicized and open for a minimum of two months;
- specify eligible promoters and partners;
- marked with the EEA Grants logo.

(c) Donor project partners are not obliged to contribute to the co-financing.

Funds could also show flexibility, while Donor and Beneficiary State entities could be eligible as promoters and partners. The diffusion of information and openness as a goal would generally benefit bilateral relations. Furthermore, alternative use of the Bilateral Fund could be adopted, such as:

- Open calls for small scale initiatives that can be held online could be issued in the fields of training, capacity building, conferences, studies/research, development or translation of information material, etc.
- Taking into consideration broader target groups, that is, bilateral partnerships that did not win through in the open Call could apply for scaled-down initiatives (restricted Call for BF), or the bilateral funds may repair the damage in calls with few bilateral partnership applications due to Covid 19.
- POs/DPPs could organise activities, such as training for promoters and partners, conferences, promotional material for bilateral cooperation, or documentation of bilateral cooperation, etc.
- Finally, more funds can be allocated to high-quality initiatives.

2. Main objective

Enhanced cooperation and improved mutual knowledge and understanding between Donor and Beneficiary States.

Greece and the Donor countries recognise and take responsibility for the current challenges that the world and humanity face, such as the covid19 pandemic, the climate crisis, the humanitarian challenges, the need for sustainable use of natural and maritime resources, the need for peace, stability, and security. All countries share the will to work together for a green, competitive and inclusive Europe, as the EEA Grants 2014-2021 communication message states, and to promote policies in this direction.

Based on all the above, and the lessons learnt from the implementation of the EEA Financial Mechanisms in the previous periods, the Bilateral Fund can develop its full potential and maximize its impact to achieve all the objectives.

As part of the EEA FM 2014-2021, the Bilateral Fund follows and implements its strategic approach. Furthermore, as stated in the MoU, bilateral relations between the Donor States and Greece shall be strengthened to stimulate and develop long-term cooperation within all areas listed in the Annex to Protocol 38c. It is also an ambition to strengthen bilateral cooperation at the political and European levels in areas of common interest.

Thus, the Bilateral Fund finances bilateral initiatives which contribute to the objectives of: (a) the reduction of economic and social disparities in the European Economic Area, and (b) the strengthening of bilateral relations between the Donor States and the Beneficiary ones, through financial contributions primarily in the priority sectors, all set in the Regulation and the MoU:

- (a) Innovation, research, education and competitiveness;
- (b) Social inclusion, youth employment, and poverty reduction;
- (c) Environment, energy, climate change, and low carbon economy;
- (d) Culture, civil society, good governance, fundamental rights and freedoms; and
- (e) Justice and home affairs.

[Note: The specific policy areas of common interest for the Donor States and Greece, within the priority sectors, are mentioned above in the "Background section.]"

Policy areas of common interest beyond the MoU programmes

Further to the policy areas supported with programmes by the MoU, the Bilateral Fund might, in principle, be open to all thematic areas from all sectors, which may document and justify a mutual interest, benefit, and ground of bilateral cooperation. The Bilateral Fund implementation in the period 2014-2021 can provide a platform for increased political, cultural, professional, and academic relations and prepare the ground for more comprehensive cooperation of entities and sectors in the future. To that end, stakeholders from both the Donor States and Greece will access and benefit from the Fund for specific activities.

Policy areas of common interest and enhanced potential for bilateral cooperation between the Donor States and Greece include the following:

Blue growth, marine resources, and shipping

Greece and two of the Donor countries, Iceland and Norway, are maritime countries, with long seashores and thousands of islands. Greece and Norway have both a long tradition in shipping. All three countries' fate is linked with the sea, and blue economy with sustainable use of marine resources is a top priority for them. Therefore, a closer collaboration in this field can be highly beneficial for all parts. Activities may address advanced technology in the field, fight against marine litter and microplastics, contingency plans for oil spills, and many more.

Culture and arts

Donor countries and Greece are countries with rich and vibrant culture and arts scene of which they are all proud. As culture awareness and appreciation are a pivotal element in the approach and likelihood of countries and people, culture and arts policy area has a special and important role in strengthening bilateral relations. Music, fine and visual arts, literature, and publications are fields where bilateral relations can focus on. Another exciting field of added value for Greece might be the Donor countries' expertise in combining modern architecture with environmentally friendly solutions, resulting in an architectural character that combines functionality, sustainability, and artistic vibe.

Gender equality and social welfare

Donor countries, especially the Nordic ones, have achieved substantial results and gained worldwide recognition in gender equality, as they are found in the first places of relevant word indexes. At the same time, they are actively promoting social welfare policies as an integral part of their sustainability model. In particular, Iceland has expressed a special interest in this policy area because of its achievements in gender equality and its best practice in a social welfare watch for effective countermeasures and damage control during a crisis. Therefore, bilateral initiatives in this policy area can have a decisive contribution and impact on Greece's respective efforts. In this direction, Bilateral Fund can contribute to bringing together and networking the government, institutional, academic, civil society, and other stakeholders working in transferring expertise and best practices and introducing research, successful tools, and techniques in the field.

Climate change, civil protection, and natural disasters contingency

This is an essential area addressing the challenges we face in dealing with climate change and environmental disruption. All countries share awareness and are keen to promote policies in this direction. Several efforts are underway to this effect. Greece is receiving assistance from various sources and considers the cooperation with the Donor states in this field of added value, given their commitment to sustainability and their significant effort to painstakingly work on technological solutions. Therefore, expertise and networking in fields such as reducing greenhouse gas emissions, prevention, and management of natural disasters will be highly beneficial.

The role of the JCBF regarding the abovementioned policy areas

During the last JCBF meeting, held on 27 February 2020, the Committee:

1. Approved the Workplan, and decided that further corrections would be made by the NFP in cooperation with Iceland on the text related to Iceland-Greece bilateral relations. The budget section would also be revised, in order to reflect the decisions of the JCBF. With these corrections, the Workplan would have been considered as final and the NFP could proceed to annex it to the BF Ministerial Decree.

2. Approved the selection of the first stage of the initiative "Youth Employment and Gender Equality: Mobilizing human capital for sustainable growth in Greece" as submitted by the Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) in bilateral partnership with Fafo Institute for Labor and Social Research (Fafo). The promoter was obliged to submit additionally a more detailed budget breakdown which would correspond to the budget lines and deliverables and clearly separate between stages one and two of the initiative.

3. Acknowledged the qualities of the proposal for Pro-Gender university studies by Panteion University but did not approve its selection at this time.

4. Approved the selection of the initiative where Promoter was the NFP to cover all individual costs and small-scale events of the member countries, eligible to the Bilateral Fund.

Modalities and management

The endorsement of the Bilateral Fund to the MoU policy areas as well as the availability for the policy areas beyond MoU will be implemented through two central axes of the Bilateral Fund:

1. Bilateral funds to programmes

In the case of programmes implemented by the Greek national authorities, allocations will be managed by the Programme Operators. In the case of programmes led by the FMO/Fund Operators, the National Focal Point will manage allocations. According to the "Composition, role and functioning of the Joint Committee for Bilateral Funds—JCBF" document the following terms apply:

- Any allocation of bilateral funds to programmes included in the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is not subject to further approval by the JCBF.
- The JCBF may decide to grant additional bilateral funds to programmes of bilateral interest.
- The allocation of additional funds for bilateral relations as described in paragraph (b) above, shall be based on expressions of interest submitted by the Programme Operators.
- Following assessment, the JCBF allocates funds to programmes of bilateral interest. The funds shall be managed under any recommendation from the JCBF.

2. Bilateral funds at the national level

According to the "Composition, role and functioning of the Joint Committee for Bilateral Funds—JCBF" document the following terms apply:

Calls:

1. The NFP issued a call for proposals regarding six (6) predefined initiatives on December 8, 2020.
2. Where the JCBF decides to launch (an) open call(s) under the BF, the NFP shall be responsible for organising calls for proposals and drafting the call text, including eligibility criteria, according to the provisions of the Work Plan.
3. The JCBF and the FMO shall be consulted on the call text and comments received shall be duly taken into consideration.
4. Calls are published on the websites of the NFP, the Donor Embassies, and the EEA and Norway Grants.
5. The JCBF shall agree upon the rules for awarding funds and award decisions.

Predefined initiatives:

1. All members of the JCBF may propose predefined bilateral initiatives to be included in the Work Plan. Proposals shall be sent to the NFP in order to be assessed and submitted for consultation/approval to the members of the JCBF, with the FMO in copy, along with the related modification of the Work Plan.

At present, there are five (5) bilateral initiatives selected and under implementation, and one (1) that the NFP shall implement. All initiatives are presented in section 6: Major activities.

3. Implementation system

The Bilateral Fund implementation falls under the Management and Control System at the national level, set in effect by a Joint Ministerial Decree, accompanied by a Manual of Procedures. At the national level, the MCS transposes the EEA Grants 2014-2021 Regulation and sets the implementation framework's national provisions. The Manual of Procedures sets the procedures, workflows, and templates for the day to day implementation.

On May 18, 2020, the Ministerial Decree (number 45504|Government Gazette/1896/Issue B/18.05.2020) was issued regarding the financial operation of the BF. In this BF MD, the NFP is defined as the overall BF Operator responsible for setting the entire framework of implementation, including the BF specific elements, such as allocation to programmes, financing, and payment flows, etc.

The NFP, as the BF Operator, initiates (where necessary) and facilitates all provisions and procedures related to the BF, including those related to the mandate of the JCBF, such as:

- the submission and review of proposals
- the adoption of predefined initiatives
- the tasks of reviewing matters of bilateral interest and the overall progress of the Bilateral Fund
- the adoption of the Workplan
- the identification and allocation of bilateral funds to programmes, and many more.

As regards the Workplan, the NFP, in consultation with the Donors, prepares the draft Work Plan, which then is submitted for comments and further development to JCBF members and the FMO. The Work Plan includes among other things a brief description of the areas of intervention, implementation system, major activities to be organised under the Fund, and so on. It also includes all selected predefined initiatives, possible calls of proposals, and selected initiatives managed by the NFP, including those related to Programmes contracted directly by FMO and the budget breakdown, including allocations to the programmes. The Work Plan is adopted by the JCBF.

Modifications to the Work Plan may be proposed by any of the members at any time. The modification proposal is prepared by the NFP, submitted to the members of the JCBF and the FMO for comments, and is reported in the Annual Meeting, which discusses its progress. Any comments to the Work Plan made in the Annual Meeting shall be taken into account by the JCBF. The NFP will report on the use of the Fund for bilateral relations, including the work of the JCBF, in the Strategic Report and the Annual Meeting. The JCBF shall be invited to comment on the bilateral relations section of the Strategic Report before the NFP submits it to the Donors.

As regards eligible expenditure, the following activities are eligible for the Bilateral Fund:

- (a) Activities aiming at strengthening bilateral relations between the Donor States and the Beneficiary ones;
- (b) The search for partners for Donor partnership projects prior to or during the preparation of a project application, the development of such partnerships, and the preparation of an application for a Donor partnership project;
- (c) Networking, exchange, and sharing of knowledge, technology, experience, and best practices between entities in the Beneficiary States and entities in the Donor States and/or international organisations;
- (d) Activities aimed at strengthening cooperation and exchanging experiences and best practices between the Programme Operators and similar entities within the Beneficiary States and the Donor States and international organisations, provided at least one entity within the Donor States is involved in the activity.

The above activities can be implemented through actions that may, indicatively, be related, but not restricted to the following:

- technical cooperation schemes and exchange of expertise
- secondments, practical training, short-term training
- workshops and seminars on topics of mutual interest
- educational excursions and visits
- reports, studies, research projects, data collection
- campaigns, reports, and promotional material.

Travel costs, including subsistence allowance per day, for the Greek public sector, are ruled by national provisions, valid also for the EEA Grants. In line with the principle of proportionality, travel costs, including subsistence allowance, for all other cases than Greek public sector may be eligible up to 50% above national provisions thresholds (example: where daily allowance for the public sector is 80E, for the non-public sector may be up to 120E). Above this limit, expenditure may be eligible upon justified documentation. Salary/experts or other costs related to work deliverables on the travelling days are not calculated in the subsistence allowance.

As regards the BF initiatives implementation, the main provisions are:

1. At the implementation level, after selection, the NFP acts as Operator under the provisions of the MCS at the national level, in the following cases:

- (a) the BF allocated to the programmes managed by the FMO/Fund Operators, and
- (b) the initiatives of axis 2.

Respectively, the POs of the programmes managed by the Greek authorities, act as Operators for their part of the BF.

2. The NFP will be responsible for the overall monitoring and reporting for the entire Bilateral Fund, including funds allocated to the Programmes. The NFP will be responsible for reporting to Grace and submitting IFRs for the entire Bilateral Fund.

3. The NFP and the POs may also act as BF initiative promoters. Separation of tasks will be documented upon submitting the initiative(s) proposal(s).

If the Work Plan provides for the use of an open call for proposals, the NFP, acting as Programme Operator, will publish the Call following mutatis mutandis the provisions in the Operational area I of the Manual of Procedures. The entire procedure, including the Call of proposals terms and conditions, as well as the evaluation and selection of initiatives, will be under the instructions and approval of the JCBF at the time of the Call.

The procedures for the proposal and selection of initiatives are foreseen in the document for Composition, role and functioning of the Joint Committee for Bilateral Funds between the Donor States and Greece and the MCS at the national level adopts them as such. The NFP has developed a standard template for predefined initiatives' proposals, which must be used for all proposed initiatives.

To conclude the selection procedure, the NFP or the POs will invite the promoter to submit a Technical Bulletin via MIS and all the necessary supporting documents, including the bilateral partner's cooperation agreement. The NFP or the POs, respectively, will issue a selection decision for each initiative, which falls under JMD MCS Art. 7.6 for Project contract. Upon issuance of the Project contract, a budget line is registered to PIP.

After selection, all BF initiatives will be implemented according to the MCS—Manual of Procedures in the operational areas II_Project Monitoring, III_Programme Monitoring, IV_Irregularities, and Complaints, V_Financial Management of Programmes, VI_Audits from Audit Authority. In these areas are included all management and control procedures during implementation, such as public procurement where applicable, monitoring of deliverables progress and financing, administrative and on spot verifications of expenditure, irregularities and complaints management, IFRs and PO reporting, etc. The verification of expenditure for the bilateral initiatives allocated to be implemented by the Programme Operators is a shared task between the POs and the NFP, implemented in steps before submitting the expenditure to the Certifying Authority.

For the needs of the standardized generic MCS templates and MIS, terms related to the implementation of programmes may also apply to BF, i.e. project, project promoter, programme operator, etc.

The NFP will inform and notify the FMO of all developments in the context of the Bilateral Fund.

All rules and procedures related to the BF will be also aggregated to the BF Annex of Manual of Procedures.

To facilitate smooth implementation, the NFP will issue a practical guide for the BF initiative promoters following the adapted MCS at the national level.

Partner(s) (each initiative shall involve minimum one donor state entity and one beneficiary state entity):	Fafo Research Foundation
Allocation (a detailed budget is not required):	€ 119,077

Given the urgent need to address the output gap produced by the crisis and reform the national growth model towards innovation and extroversion, mobilization of and investment in Greece's human capital is of paramount importance for Greece's economic future. In this context, the aim of the proposed initiative is twofold: (a) document and analyse the conditions of the Greek labour market and examine the main barriers that constrain access for the young people, emphasising gender aspects of such barriers; and (b) formulate appropriate policy proposals on how to facilitate the access of young people to the Greek labor market, including specific recommendations on how to overcome gender-related barriers. The project will seek to benefit from and utilize knowledge transfer, experience, and best practices from Norway and other Nordic countries.

Title:	ProGender: A Digital Hub on Gender, the COVID-19 crisis and its Aftermath
Implementing Entity (donor or beneficiary state entity):	Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences (UPSPS)
Partner(s) (each initiative shall involve minimum one donor state entity and one beneficiary state entity):	RECollective; Stin Priza; Norwegian University for Science and Technology (NTNU); Institute for Gender, Equality and Difference at the University of Iceland (RIKK)
Allocation (a detailed budget is not required):	€ 135,493
Short description	ProGender aims to promote bilateral activities between Iceland, Greece, and Norway by creating a digital hub devoted to gender perspectives of COVID-19 and its aftermath. The activities that will be carried out within the hub will be online and promote gender perspectives, analyses, and policy responses to the covid19 crisis through a set of actions and initiatives that enhance cooperation and exchange between Greek, Icelandic and Norwegian institutions. Globally, while the mortality rate of the covid19 pandemic seems to be more severe among the male population, the socio-economic impacts of the coronavirus crisis have serious consequences for the female population: women represent 70% of global health care personnel. They are hereby overly exposed to the risk of the virus. Women, who are also highly exposed to domestic violence and work-life imbalances, are expected to be affected more severely by unemployment and livelihoods. Although there are common gender challenges across the globe, there are countries, like Iceland and Norway, that are currently best positioned to deal with the crisis in gender-sensitive ways not only because they have female-led governments, but also because they have better gender equality infrastructures, policies and legislation in place. ProGender will create a hub that will make it possible to transfer knowledge and best practices and perspectives from the North to the South; it will not be based on a one-way process as the scope of the hub will be to construct and support a framework within which productive and creative interactions benefiting participants from all three countries would take place.

Title:	"Winds of Change": Can Renewable Energy shape a new geo-economic paradigm for the EU, Greece and its Neighbourhood?
Implementing Entity (donor or beneficiary state entity):	Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP)
Partner(s) (each initiative shall involve minimum one donor state entity and one beneficiary state entity):	Alma Economics; Norwea
Allocation (a detailed budget is not required):	€ 77,590
Short description	The proposed "Winds of Change" project aims to produce thorough analysis; initiate discussions and a constructive dialogue between key stakeholders; and build bridges of mutual trust and collaboration on green transition and the deployment of renewable energy (RE) sources, notably offshore wind energy, for a new energy model for Greece and the Eastern Mediterranean. Our proposal outlines a two-pronged approach: a regional dimension of a connected RE production and distribution in Greece's neighbourhood; and a domestic dimension with a focused socio-economic impact on offshore wind energy power. Both strands of work will provide evidence and substantiated analysis to. For the domestic Greek socio-economic impact study, we believe it is timely in context of the anticipated incoming regulatory framework for transition of the energy model, whilst at the same time twins with the work already conducted by ELTAEAN under its EEA grant. Focusing on alleviating national and local concerns of onshore wind farms in environmentally sensitive regions in Greece, the proposed socio-economic impact study will identify evidence and analysis on the introduction of offshore wind power in the energy mix for Greece. Specifically, this study will dovetail and support the regulatory analysis conducted by ELTAEAN and the stakeholder dialogues in Greece to date. At the same time, whilst it creates evidence and analysis for offshore wind power production as part of the domestic energy mix, it enables Greece to lead an informed discussion with its neighbours on offshore wind power production for a regional RE model. Greece as a southern eastern point of the EU, with the support of EEA Donor States, will have an opportunity to promote RE in the context of the EU Green Deal goals, in the entire region of Eastern Mediterranean. At the same time, the regional geopolitical scope of a connected RE grid for the Eastern Mediterranean region will provide an imperative analysis, with which to seed conversations for political discourse, as well as an indication on scale and scope of the opportunity for investors and likely commitment of private capital. By exploring the geopolitical state of play in the Eastern Mediterranean, this study aims to analyse the configuration of energy geopolitics in the Eastern Mediterranean, which have been shaped by the discovery of sizeable natural gas resources in the region about a decade ago and by various energy monetisation projects, which included the connection of the Eastern Mediterranean with the energy grid of the European energy market. As the pandemic and the European Green Deal have shifted the focus from hydrocarbon to RE in the Eastern Mediterranean, this study aims to contribute to the identification of opportunities and risks for the successful development of a RE grid and offshore wind power farms in the Eastern Mediterranean.
