Green Europe

Protecting the planet and promoting sustainability

Environmental sustainability was central to the EEA and Norway Grants (2014–2021), supporting climate action, renewable energy, resource efficiency and ecosystem protection. Investments reduced fossil fuel dependence through energy efficiency, geothermal, solar and biomass solutions, alongside capacity building and Donor State cooperation. The Grants also advanced circular economy practices, promoting waste reduction and recycling. Biodiversity protection addressed flooding, habitat loss and pollution through restoration and sustainable management. Overall, initiatives strengthened institutional capacity, fostered innovation and supported greener, more resilient economies and communities.

Indicator	Target	Achievement
Energy produced from RES (in MWh/year)	86,515	735,059.7
Estimated annual CO ₂ emissions reductions	978,716.39	524,499.6
Installed capacity for production of renewable energy (in MW)	34.89	77.72

Competitive Europe

Driving innovation and economic growth

Economic growth, innovation and employment were central to the EEA and Norway Grants in the funding period, supporting resilient economies amid green and digital transitions, COVID-19 recovery and global disruptions. Under Competitive Europe, the Grants strengthened innovation, skills and entrepreneurship, with emphasis on youth employment and future-oriented training. Support for SMEs through transparent funding stimulated job creation and sustainable solutions. Programmes also reinforced institutions, governance and social dialogue, while bilateral cooperation fostered knowledge exchange, helping build adaptable, competitive and inclusive economic systems.

Indicator	Target	Achievement
Estimated annual CO ₂ emissions reductions	423,000	198,337.84
Number of jobs created	5,159	4,545
Number of new products/technologies developed	371	697
Number of researchers supported	2,270	5,133

Inclusive Europe

Strengthening equality and social cohesion

In the funding period inclusion was central to the EEA and Norway Grants, promoting fair access to rights, services and participation. Support improved education, healthcare and social services for vulnerable groups, including minorities, people with disabilities and victims of violence, with a special focus during COVID-19. Civil society organisations were strengthened to advocate for rights, promote civic participation and democratic engagement, and support vulnerable groups. The Grants also reinforced rule of law, access to justice and civic engagement, helping build more inclusive, equitable and resilient societies across Beneficiary States.

Indicator	Target	Achievement
Annual number of cases of domestic and gender-based violence officially reported	91,602	132,129
Number of national policies and laws influenced	323	1,346
Number of people reached by campaigns	18,587,000	203,841,528
